Dear Parents/Guardians,

Bestselling children’s author Matt Stanton has been invited to your school to inspire students about reading and creativity.

A limited range of Matt’s books are available for purchase in advance of his visit from www.stantonbookshop.com

If the order is completed prior to the day of the visit, a signed copy of the purchased book will be delivered to your child as part of Matt’s visit.

If your child already owns copies of Matt’s books that you would like autographed, your child is welcome to bring their own copies to school on the day.

Happy reading!
